Rattlegram Desktop

A few years ago, I posted about Rattlegram, a mobile app that encodes and decodes text as audio. I started playing with it again a bit today and found that someone made a desktop version. It works the same on the computer as it does on the phone. I briefly tried to connected my computer to the HF radio via USB but it wouldn't transmit. If anyone figures out how to do that, please comment below!