

Pebble HF

Just when I thought I had enough distractions I ran across this, a very inexpensive and easy to assemble QRP kit that can output up to 5 watts on 20 M (apparently a 40M one is in the works too), does phone, CW and digital modes.

I am not sure whether or not Canadians can buy off their site as they are distributing all non-US countries through CRKITS (I e-mailed Adam Rong the owner of CRKITS to see if he ships to Canada, so will post his reply when he gets back to me). Adam is a likeable and interesting fellow, you can also check out some of the stuff he has on his site:
