

Station Coax

This is how VA7FI manages his coax runs into the house. It's meant as an example to help people get started, not as a definitive authority on the subject. Feedback is always welcome.

Outside

- LMR400 is used from the antennas to the transition box.
- The box shown here is 9"x9"x4½", but I would probably use the next size up if I did it again: there's never enough antennas!
